

ABC Notice to Licensees Affected by Sonoma County Fires

ABC Q&A: SONOMA COUNTY FIRES INFORMATION FOR LICENSEES

This information is being provided by the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) to address some of the questions licensed businesses may have concerning the wildfires in Sonoma County. ABC will continue to answer questions as the regions strive to recover from this disaster. The Department is committed to being as flexible as possible with our licensees.

The information is presented in Q&A format. These are not the only questions the ABC can address. Licensees who may have questions can contact the following ABC District Office:

Santa Rosa District Office
50 D Street, Room 130

WHAT ABOUT THE STORAGE OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES?

1. Tax-paid wine and beer may be stored anywhere in the state. ABC approval is not required.
2. Distilled spirits may only be stored on licensed premises, including Type-14 public warehouses. ABC approval is not required to transfer from one storage location to another.
3. If alcoholic beverages are stored in a Type-14 public warehouse, ABC approval is not required to transfer them to another Type-14 warehouse or to a private warehouse.
4. Distilled spirits may be stored in a private warehouse approved by the Department if within the limits of the county in which the licensee's premises are located.
5. If wine is stored in bond, ABC approval is not required to transfer it to another facility. However, approval of taxing authorities (BOE, TTB) may be required.

CAN YOU TELL ME ABOUT RETAIL LICENSE ISSUES RELATED TO BREAKAGE?

Understanding there may be questions involving broken containers of alcoholic beverage at retail licensed business, we are advising there are no provisions in the ABC Act that permit suppliers (manufacturers and distributors) to replace loss due to breakage caused by natural disasters.

Retailers should file a claim with their insurer for the value of their product. Additionally, if a retail premise closes for a period that exceeds 15 days, or closes permanently, the law requires them to surrender their license. When they have done so, ABC permits suppliers to pick up alcoholic beverages and credit the account of a retailer who has surrendered their license.

With respect to damaged products, please see below under "Can a retail licensee return its inventory to a supplier".

ARE THERE ANY TIED HOUSE EXCEPTIONS FOR NATURAL DISASTERS?

The ABC Act provides a tied-house exception for natural disasters. It provides that a manufacturer or wholesaler may give, rent, lend, or sell, any equipment, fixtures, or supplies, other than alcoholic beverages, to a retailer whose equipment, fixtures, or supplies were lost or damaged as a result of a natural disaster and whose premises are located in an area proclaimed to be in a state of disaster by the Governor.

The section does not apply to transactions that occur three months or more after the Governor proclaims an area to be in a state of disaster.

WHAT ABOUT CLOSURE OF AN ABC LICENSED PREMISES?

If a premise is closes for a period that exceeds 15 days, or closes permanently, the law requires the business to surrender their license. Licensees can use the ABC-231 form located on the ABC website to surrender their license. Once this is complete, suppliers may pick-up alcoholic beverages and credit the account of the retailer.

WHAT ABOUT SALES OR RETURNS BY INSURERS OR SURRENDERED LICENSEES?

The ABC Act permits a licensee who has surrendered or canceled their license to sell their stock of lawfully acquired alcoholic beverages to a licensee or licensees who are authorized to resell the alcoholic beverages.

The licensee can apply with the Department to sell their stock of alcoholic beverages to any licensee or licensees authorized to resell such alcoholic beverages.

An insurer may, after permission has been granted by the Department, take possession of alcoholic beverages, the containers of which have been damaged by fire, and sell them to licensees who are authorized to sell the alcoholic beverages.
